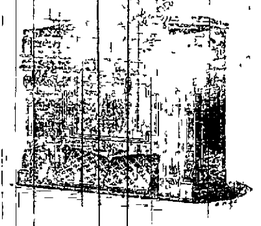
AMERICAN ORGANS

MANUFACTORY,

Tremont, opposite Waltham St.,

BOSTON, MASS.



The most perfect and beautiful Musical Instrument in the world for the American Home Circle

THE AMERICAN ORGAN makes Home Attractive and refines and elevates the minds of all Beautiful in its appearance and effects.

Seventeen---17---First Premiums were awarded to the American Organs IN THE MONTH OF OCTOBER, 1865, over all Competitors, at different State and County Fairs.

First Premium awarded to the American Organs at the Great New York State Agricultural Fair at Rochester September 1864, over the Whole catalogue exhibited by the most Celebrated Makers

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are the ONLY REAL REED ORGANS now before the public The only Organ having a REVERBERATING SOUND BOX or WIND CHEST—which is the same important part to perform as the Sounding Board has in a Piano Forte (to give body and resonance of tone) and without which the Organ becomes merely a Melodeon in an Organ case The American Organs not only have the Wind Chest, or Sound Box but have the large Organ Bellows, giving power and great steadiness of tone These with their extreme fine voicing of the Reeds and perfecting of the tone make them the MOST PERFECT ORGAN KNOWN Then, in fineness of workmanship, finish of action, and case, they excel all others These great improvements and superiority of tone and workmanship of the AMERICAN ORGANS place them in the first rank as the best, and command a higher price than any other reed instrument in the market A careful examination of them in comparison with others, will quickly show their superiority.

Special attention is called to the style of AMERICAN ORGAN, No 17, containing the Super Octave Coupler and Sub Bass. FOR CHURCHES in want of a powerful instrument whose means are limited its price renders it very desirable.

EVERY ORGAN IS WARRANTED TO PROVE SATISFACTORY.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS all have the Reverberating Sound Box, or Wind Chest, and are finished in the highest style of art in Rosewood, Jet Walnut, and Oak finish, richly Varnished and Polished, or in Smooth Oil Finish, forming elegant pieces of Furniture for the Parlor or Boudoir, and the Oak and Walnut especially adapted for Churches, Lecture and Lodge Rooms.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are all finished with our new PATENT improvements, containing the improved Knee Swell, Double Bellows, two Blow Pedals, and TREMOLO found in no other instrument

NEW STYLES OF CASES,

Richly Finished and Highly Ornamented.

THE LAST REPORTED AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION The following is the amendment of the Constitution reported from the Committee on Reconstruction in the House on Monday, by Mr Bingham of Ohio, together with a sketch of his accompanying remarks —

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two-thirds of both Houses concurring), That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of the said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of said Constitution, viz:

Article —. The Congress shall have power to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper to secure to the citizens of each State all the privileges and immunities of the citizens of the several States, and to all persons in the several States equal protection in the rights of life, liberty and property

Mr Bingham said he would not detain the House by any lengthened argument in support of the joint resolution. If such legislation had been on the statute book so as to enforce the constitutional requirements in every State, the rebellion which has charred and blackened the land would have been an impossibility The proposed amendment imposed no obligation on any State, nor on any citizen in a State which was not now enjoined upon them by the very letter of the Constitution It was impossible for man to frame words more obligatory than those already in the Constitution enjoining this great duty on the several States and on the several officers of all the States But it was equally clear, that by every construction of the Constitution—its contemporaneous and continuous construction—that great provision contained in the second section of the fourth article, and in a portion of the fifth amendment adopted by the First Congress in 1789; the immortal bill of rights had hitherto depended on the action of the several States. The House, the country and the world knew that all legislative, all executive, all judicial officers in the eleven States of the Union had, within the last five years, violated this provision of the Constitution, the enforcement of which was absolutely essential to American nationality. By order of the Committee on Reconstruction, and for the purpose of giving to the whole people the care of the General Government, without which American nationality would cease, he would press the adoption of this amendment on the House, and through the House press it on the consideration of the loyal people of the whole country. He submitted it to the deliberate and dispassionate judgment of the House."

FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1866.

We willingly comply with a request to publish the following:

Maine Freedmen's Relief Society.

To the Citizens of Maine:

The Freedmen, the poorest poor of our country, for two hundred years despoiled by State enactment and national consent, have been tossed for the last four years, upon the wildest waves of the fiery sea of war, until their very rags are torn away, and now in weary millions, they creep along the shore of Peace, and see far inland, waiting cottages and fields.

The Superintendent of Schools in Virginia writes "that a large portion of the Freedmen who, during the war were taken as a military measure from the possession of their masters and placed upon the abandoned, rebel farms, have been and are about being ejected from their homes by the amnestied proprietors. Even with the best disposition on the part of the landholders, they have been incapacitated by the results of the war from furnishing employment to even one-third of their former slaves. But instead of kindness, there is, as a rule, an evident feeling of hostility toward the Freedmen. With the renewed possession of their farms by the grace of pardon, they give no indication of having pardoned the black man for loyalty to his country. There is no time for discussing either the policy or the Providence that has placed this people in their present peril. Action and not argument is what their condition demands; otherwise there will be such a record of suffering and mortality as the world has rarely witnessed." In every Southern State there are many in extreme need.

It is not true that the able-bodied have not labored industriously and lived prudently hitherto, as they have had opportunity. It is susceptible of proof that no class of people in the United States have struggled with adversity more manfully or successfully, the circumstances being considered.

But the desolations of war, the utter confusion of all social and industrial conditions, the abject poverty in which the return of peace found white and black alike, the extraordinary blight upon the very imperfect crop of this year, have together, not strangely, proven too much for the best endeavors of many. Thousands have succeeded—hundreds of thousands—despite all these difficulties, in providing for the winter, and ask no charity.

Other hundreds of thousands will, by steady industry, although unable to provide in advance, keep the wolf at bay, until the spring drives him back; and these ask no charity.

But there remain the equally industrious but less fortunate, who can find neither work nor wages until the planting season returns; besides the infirm and the thousands upon thousands of orphans, whose mothers cannot be found, and whose fathers gave up their lives that we might celebrate our peace.

The officers of the American Freedmen's Aid Commission estimate that one million of dollars is needed immediately for the purchase of blankets and personal clothing, for the erection of temporary shelters, and for the opening and maintenance of additional orphan asylums.

The facts and estimates which we here present are founded upon the most reliable authority. They have, no reference to the support of missionaries who are sustained by denominational effort, or of school teachers sustained by the several Freedmen's Associations. The support of teachers, however, should be generously considered in connection. A goodly number from this State are already in the field, proving themselves eminently successful and useful.

In view of this terrible condition of the Freedmen, it seems an imperious duty that all humane people, casting aside all sectarian and political considerations, should make an immediate and systematic effort for their relief. Let the offering be worthy of a people grateful for abundant harvests and for the restoration of peace to our beloved country.

We would recommend that town or city societies, auxiliary to the State society, or committees, be formed without delay; that the officers of the late Sanitary and Christian Commission devote their energies to work for the Freedmen; that towns and parishes be thoroughly canvassed for money and clothing; that public speakers, especially those who have been South, volunteer their services for public meetings; and yet that no people wait for the call or aid of an agent. Delays may result in death.

Clothing should be packed in strong boxes or barrels. On each case or barrel put the name of the person sending it and the place from whence it is sent. Send a list of contents in each package, and a duplicate of the same by mail to E. C. Estes, Business Agent, 76 John Street, New York. Mark each package thus—N. Y. N. F. R. A., 76 John Street, New York. From

All goods should be forwarded to the care of George R. Davis, Portland, whence they will be taken to New York free of cost. By a little effort, expressmen and transportation agents may be induced to carry goods to Portland at a small expense, if any.

All monies may be sent directly to Hon. N. G. Hichborn, Treasurer of the State organization, Augusta; or, if more convenient, may be sent to the Treasurer of the State Society, through the hands of James T. McCobb, Esq., of Portland.

Applications for situations as teachers may be addressed to the subscriber at Augusta, or to our General Agent, Rev. D. S. King, whose post-office address is "Office of Zion's Herald, Boston, Mass." The wages of a teacher is twenty dollars per month, in addition to transportation and board, which the Society will pay.

Any teacher for the Freedmen, going from Maine, and duly appointed by this or any other Society, can have free passage by steamboat to Boston or New York and return, on application to Captain Cyrus Sturdevant, of Portland.

At a meeting of the Maine Freedmen's Relief Society, held at the State House Feb. 8th, the foregoing address was adopted, and the following list of officers was elected for the present year. The official reports were not presented; but I am happy to say that a commendable interest is manifest in different parts of the State, and that the citizens of Portland and Bangor, especially, are doing a great work for the Freedmen. A superintendent of schools in Virginia, and another in North Carolina, with twenty-two female teachers, have been engaged from this State to represent the State Society and its auxiliaries, with the expectation that they will be sustained by funds raised in the State, at an expense of about $12,000. This is exclusive of teachers sent out under denominational control and support.

It is respectfully requested that the newspapers in Maine will publish the organization and appeal of the Society.

"Even those who have been most severe in their criticisms of the course of Congress in respect to the Southern States, must admit that after the extraordinary speech of the President last week, both Houses bore themselves with great dignity and wisdom. A portion of his speech was calculated to inflame the passions of members and evoke violent replies. We rather expected to hear some such replies. But none such were heard. The House went quietly in and attended to its business in the usual manner, as though nothing had occurred. In the Senate Mr. Fessenden made in response of the most elevated, respectful and statesmanlike tone. If Congress continues to display such good sense and moderation, a rupture with the President must be avoidable, unless he has resolved to have a rupture. We are not willing to believe that he has resolved on that. We hope and believe that Congress will pursue a temperate course. Let it not, because of his speech, in spite resort to retaliatory action and pass bills for the purpose of having him veto them. We are told that on the day the veto message came in, the House was ready to admit the loyal members from Tennessee. If so, then why not admit them now? Why keep them out to punish the President? It may be natural to do so while smarting under his attacks. But is it wisest? The dignified and manly course is to do justice to Tennessee, regardless of the President's words. We believe that Congress will adopt that course. It is reported that Senator Wilson is preparing a bill which meets with the President's approval, continuing the present Freedmen's Bureau organization two years. Let that be passed. If Mr. Trumbull's bill cannot become a law, let us have the best we can get. Practically, of course, the President cannot interfere in any way with the action of the two houses in respect to the southern members elect. The joint committee on reconstruction have been very busily engaged in taking testimony concerning the state of affairs at the south, and will partially complete their investigation before long. Their report will give us authentic information, and enable us to decide more accurately than is now possible whether it is best to admit the men sent to Washington by the South, whether in fact any of them can under the laws of the land now take a seat in Congress. Before we settle this question in our own minds, let us hear what they and their witnesses have to say. We think too that a little more reflection must convince the President the best way to procure the speedy admission of the southern members by this Congress or to procure such legislation as he wishes for the South, is not to assail Congress in violent speeches. The sooner he can cause his harangue of Thursday to be forgotten, and the effect of it to be neutralized, the better for him and for the country. Unless he is determined to break away from the Republican party, and we are not yet ready to believe that he is—some honorable adjustment of the differences between him and Congress is attainable."

[There is one condition of general admission which the Journal has said nothing about, but which we think Congress ought to make, viz: that there should first be some constitutional safeguard against any payment of rebel debts, or of payment for emancipated slaves, and we would not consent to have the national power withdrawn from those States and the freedmen abandoned to State control until some reliable guaranty for their just treatment is obtained.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.

Nevada, the youngest of the loyal States, had the floor in the Senate to-day, both of her Senators speaking on the concurrent resolution, that no Senators or Representatives be received in either house from any of the rebellious States until such State shall have been declared entitled to representation.

Gov. Nye spoke first, cheered by a telegraphic despatch which he had received, dated at Carson City, yesterday, saying—"Stand firm! The Union party, Union press and Union Legislature endorse your action upon the veto. A resolution introduced into State Senate endorsing the President received only one vote in the affirmative." Gov. Nye took the initial ground that the origin and interest of the rebellion was to overthrow democratic principles and to rear in their stead government of privileged classes. This should be borne in mind, in order to exercise due caution in admitting back to places of power a class of people who have been educated for life time in principles antagonistic to a republican government. This class of people have been guilty of gross deception toward the people, North and South, in not showing the real intent of their object from the start. Gov. Nye discussed at length the question of the real status of the seceded States or territories, claiming that it is immaterial whether they are States or territories; but the contest of arms has decided that the States or territories, and the inhabitants thereof, belong to the United States, and they are now to be dealt with precisely as the exigencies of the case may demand.

The power to deal with them is lodged in the general government of the United States. Gov. Nye spoke of the danger of the war of race upon race, claiming that the true way to avoid it is to deal justly with all classes. From the history of the horrors of San Domingo down to the present time every effort to govern a people by unequal and unjust laws has proved a failure. Men educated to believe that they belong to a master race should not be admitted to seats of power in the Government. They are unfit guardians of the sacred trust of Republican freedom. Gov. Nye spoke about two hours and a half, and his speech contained much valuable information on the great question of the day, without any personal allusion to President Johnson, or to the present misunderstanding. In conclusion, he said that "it is the duty of Congress, and within the power of Congress, to prevent all local despotisms in State Governments, and if unequal suffrage is made the instrument of local oppression then it is the duty of Congress to make equal suffrage a means of defense: it is a matter of necessity to quote the words of Mr. Madison, that the superintending government have the means of defending equal suffrage in the local governments in order to bring the whole into harmonious action.—[Sp. to Boston Journal.

BLIND DIRECTORS. Commenting upon the recently discovered rascality of Concord railroad officials, a correspondent of The Boston Advertiser makes the following revelation of the why and wherefore:—

"The Concord corporation need not plume themselves on the prompt "working up" of a suddenly discovered case of unmitigated rascality on the part of their employees in a particular branch of their business. By their own conduct and management they have induced or encouraged this astounding depletion of their treasury. They have seen, year after year, men come into their service as conductors who presented no evidence that they were worth a shilling. They have paid these men, who necessarily made their homes either in the city of Nashua or Manchester, the scanty pittance of $700 or $800 per annum. They have seen these men with few exceptions adhere like leeches to their places; whilst from some unknown source of gain they donned splendid diamond pins, sported unrivalled chronometers and repeaters, owned and drove 2:40, horses harnessed to finished phaetons, and erected palatial mansions in the city, flanked by, splendid farms in the country. They have seen some of their conductors acquiring shares in their own road to a large amount. All this has transpired under the eyes of successive boards of directors, and no intelligent man, be he director or stockholder, could doubt for a moment the true character of these rapidly acquired fortunes. It has been common talk in all circles that conductors on this road are expected to "feather their nests."

A Washington correspondent says that Gen. Grant's most trusted aid, Col Ed Parker, the Indian chief, has just returned from a prolonged tour through the South, and thus reports his experience there:

He, wearing his uniform, was struck by the redundant professions of loyal submission which everywhere greeted him. These were so frequent as at last to excite his suspicions. He clothed himself in citizen's garb, and thereafter passed as a member of the Choctaw nation, well known to the South as a rich, well educated and intensely proslavery tribe of the Southwest. This disguise unloosed the latchstrings of their secret thoughts, and thereafter he heard not one loyal word except when in pursuance of his duty he was with our own officers. The most malignant disloyalty, the most vindictive hatred, the fiercest, though suppressed determination to bide their time, yet wreak revenge was everywhere made visible to the man whose color and stated relation made them confident of sympathy."

NORTHERN MEN AT THE SOUTH. A Southern planter, who says he has always been a Union man, writes to the Savannah Republican that so far from discouraging Northern immigration, the secessionists of Southern Georgia are willing and anxious that Northern men should locate among them, and by their capital energy and industry help build up and develop the resources of the country. Many owners of plantations are too poor to stock and cultivate them properly, and are anxious to sell. It is not too late to buy for this year, as the season for planting lasts from the 20th of April to the 15th of May.

THE COTTON CROP OF LOUISIANA. We have a letter dated Baton Rouge, Feb. 6, in which the writer, who has good opportunity for obtaining information, says:

The prospect for a good crop the coming season is promising, and even at this early day the planters are making preparations to plant the largest amount of land they can find hands to work. Cotton will be the principal crop this year in this part of the State, and I am informed that nothing but cotton will be raised throughout the State."

—Nine months ago there were just two houses at Pithole, Pa.; now there are twelve thriving hotels, a daily paper issuing 3,000 copies, and a postoffice receiving 50,000 letters monthly. Oil did it.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

We would call the attention of all those in want of a pleasant and remunerative business, (particularly Ministers and Teachers who wish to add to their small pittance), to the advertisement in our columns this day headed "Solicitors Wanted," and can assure them that the Company ranks with the best in the country. 4t r col

The Great Worm Remedy.

It has been said by more than one eminent physician that more sickness among children is the result of Pin Worms than all other causes;—that worms imitate the symptoms of most other diseases, often producing fatal results, without being suspected. From this cause of so much sickness, every family may have an effectual remedy, by procuring a bottle of

Dr. E. G. Gould's Pin Worm Syrup.

It will remove ordinary stomach worms oftener than any of the vermifuges in the market, and for Pin Worms it has no equal. It will relieve children or adults from all annoyance in twenty-four hours, and effect an entire cure when taken according to directions. It is a mild cathartic, and can be given to the youngest child with perfect safety. It improves the health by removing all impurities from the system.

At Wholesale, in Boston, by G. C. GOODWIN & CO; in Bangor by N. S. HARLOW, W. L. ALDEN & CO., B. F. BRADBURY. At retail by druggists everywhere. sn3taw6w—nov21

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also Liverspot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either; and any preparation that will effectually remove them without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. Perry, who has made diseases of the skin a speciality, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

Prepared only by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists; in Bangor, by Warren L. Alden, Wholesale Agent; price $2.00 per bottle. Call for PERRY'S MOTH AND FRECKLE LOTION.

Suspension of the Habeas Corpus in Ireland.

WASHINGTON, March 1

The committee appointed by the meeting held at Baltimore, to endorse President Johnson, waited upon President Johnson and presented the resolutions which were duly read to them On being admitted, Gov Cox, who accompanied the committee, made a speech and to the President replied, making many kind remarks, and saying, among other things, that the taunts which had been utter against him, had no effect on him—his only work was the restoration of the country when the rebellion is put down We had a party for consolidation and not disintegration It is the same spirit as that which led to the rebellion and leads to the same end—obstruction of the Government I desire nothing but to effect this reconciliation of the country

The President was subsequently visited by a committee of the Iron and Steel Convention Mutual speeches, of a happy nature, followed

The commission estimate a duty of six million annually, from refined petroleum at twenty cents per gallon

HALIFAX, March 1

The Royal Mail Steamship Asia, from Liverpool 17th and Queenstown 18th has arrived

In the House of Commons on the 15th Mr Cardwell introduced a bill for the future government of Jamaica He briefly explained that the government had thought fit to ratify the decision of the legislature of Jamaica had arrived at abolishing itself, and it would be proposed to establish a government similar to that in Trinidad for a period of three years, and if the experiment was successful it would then be made permanent, if not some other arrangement would be devised

In the House of Commons on the 16th Sir George Grey gave notice that on the following day, Saturday, the House having agreed to specially meet on that day, he would move for leave to bring in a bill to suspend for a limited time the habeas corpus act in Ireland (Loud and general cheers follow the announcement)

Mr Labouchere, gave notice that on the 23d he would call attention to the inadequacy of the nuetral laws to enable England to fulfill her international obligations towards foreign countries. The Government bill on the cattle disease was debated and amended in several particulars and passed through the committee of the whole

In the House of Lords on the 16th Earl Russell announced the proposed suspension of the habeas corpus in Ireland, and asked the House to sit on Saturday the 17th that no time might be lost in passing the measure

The Earl of Derby said it would be for the government to justify the course about to be taken, and if the Commons agreed to the proposal, he would not interpose a moment's delay, but he hoped that the government would at the earliest possible moment state the grounds on which they relied for justification of the proceedings

The London Times says the Irish government is of course better informed than any private persons can be as to the state of the country and the imminence of the danger, but with the increased activity of the movement during the past month and the presence of a number of persons in various districts with a scarcely concealed purpose of promoting insurrection, there is ample reasons for the strictest precautions

The object of the Irish government is doubtless to secure some of the emissaries of American Fenianism who are now numerous in Ireland and working with disastrous effect on the people The measure of 1848 brought the revolutionary movement to a crisis and it is hoped that a like proceeding will now effect a similar object — The bill will pass both Houses of Parliament on the 17th, and receive the Royal assent on Monday the 19th

The Morning Herald says the government will be supported in this measure

The Army and Navy Gazette says the troops in Ireland are being distributed more among the small towns, thereby giving a greater feeling of security

The Times assumes that Mr Gladstone's budget will show an excess of income over expenditures of about three million sterling and it thinks Mr Gladstone will attempt to reduce the national debt

It was rumored that Sir Charles Wood, late Secretary for India has been offered and accepted a peerage

The Daily News believes the Government has acceded to the propositions of the Roman Catholic hierarchy of Ireland, and that thenceforth the senate of the Queen's University in Ireland will consist of half Protestants and half Roman Catholics

Liverpool, 17 The Liverpool Journal contains an assertion that the Government had private information of a privateer being at sea on a Fenian errand. This is given as one probable reason for the suspension of the habeas corpus.

The Journal du Havre mentions as a report requiring confirmation, that a steamer fitted out as a privateer by American Fenians sailed from New York, Jan. 30, for Baltimore under the name of the Cuba She is said to be the Fort Morgan, formerly a federal gunboat, lately sold by the Navy Department and bought by the Fenians

The Journal doubts the success of the Irish privateer, if there be one, as she would be regarded as a pirate, by every naval power, and when captured, the crew should be hanged.

In the House of Commons on the 17th, Sir George Grey in asking leave to bring in a bill suspending the habeas corpus act in Ireland, said the Fenian conspiracy only recently assumed its present proportions. It was necessary to strike one effective blow.—The scheme was wholly discountenanced by the American Government, and the loyalty of the army was beyond doubt.

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland earnestly requested the suspension, stating that he could not hold himself responsible for the safety of the country if power was withheld.

D'Israeli concurred, but Mr. Bright protested, but would not oppose the Government.

Leave was given, by a vote of 364 to 6.

The bill was passed through all stages and sent to the House of Lords, which likewise passed the bill, without opposition, at 11 o'clock to-night, Saturday.

FIRST SESSION

WASHINGTON, March 1

Senate

A memorial of the Free Trade League of New York for the continuance of the reciprocity with Canada was presented

Mr Wilson reported a resolution for the disbandment of the militia of the lately rebellious States, and to prevent their reorganization.

Same gentleman presented a petition of military officers for increase of compensation

Mr Sherman, from committee on agriculture, reported a bill granting discretionary powers to the Secretary of the Treasury to allow the importation of cattle and hides from districts not infested by cattle disease

The concurrent resolution in relation to the admission of senators and representatives from the lately rebellious States was taken up

Mr Stewart concluded his speech against it Mr Johnson spoke at length against the concurrent resolution.

At the conclusion of Mr Johnson's remarks, Mr Hendricks moved to amend by inserting the words "the inhabitants of which" in the resolution, so as to make it read,—"States, the inhabitants of which have been declared to be in insurrection"

Mr Wade replied to that portion of Mr Johnson's speech that applied to him.

Supreme Judicial Court—Criminal Term

Hon. JONAS CUTTING, J presiding.
CHAS P. STETSON, ESQ., County Attorney.

Thursday Mar. 1.

All matters for the jury having been disposed of the remaining jury was discharged, and the Court adjourned to Monday, the 5th inst when sentences will be pronounced against prisoners convicted, and the Court will finally adjourn.

The term has been an unusually laborious one, requiring the utmost endurance and energy on the part of the County Attorney, who has met the emergency with consumate ability, and has resulted in convictions in twenty seven different cases, to four cases of acquittal.

IN NAVIGATION. Messrs. Bryant, Stratton and Lakin, have opened a class in navigation at their Business College over the Telegraph Office, which is largely attended. It is under the instruction of Henry C. Snow, and the people are making remarkable proficiency

A DEMOCRATIC DEMONSTRATION The Democrats fired a salute yesterday in testimony of their approval of President Johnson's veto and policy of reconstruction.—They also held a public meeting in the evening called in the Democrat, addressed to "The People of Bangor and vicinity who are in favor of sustaining the Restoration Policy of President Johnson None but Democrats, however, took part They rallied to the call in about their full strength and filled the floor of City Hall The galleries were filled with spectators, including the Bangor Band, which had been engaged for the occasion

The meeting was called to order by Judge Pratt, formerly of our Police Court, and J Wingate Carr, Esq', was called to the chair, and Martin Van Buren Piper, Esq, appointed Secretary

George W Ladd, Judge Pratt, J S Ricker, J L Emery and Levi Murch were the Committee on Resolutions,

The speeches of the evening were made by Judge Pratt and B H Mace, Esq

—There was quite an extensive fire at Stockton village on Saturday evening last consuming three stores It originated in the store of Enoch Staples and the flames were discovered coming out of the roof about 9 o'clock in the evening, shortly after the store had been closed for the night. It soon communicated to E. D Libbey's store, and thence to Colcord & Mudgetts store, all of which were burned with more or less of the goods which they contained. Loss not stated—partially insured

—A Washington correspondent of the Portland Star says—

Ex-Governor Coburn, Hon Henry E. Prentiss, Hon. Geo K Jewett of Bangor, and others are here looking after the lumber interests of Maine. They will have a hearing before the Committee on Commerce this week Hon E H Banks, of Biddeford, are also in town for a visit —The Union says Machias river is free of ice. Jonathan A Longfellow, contracted to get the ice out of the channel, the lumber manufacturers and traders paying $150 He commenced Feb 21st, at noon, and on the 24th, at noon, the channel was free for navigation, leaving Jonathan quite a margin for profit.

Since Feb. 10th, the lumber teams have had poor chance for operations Frequent rains, streams and swamps overdowed, roads bare—a poor winter for business But little lumber will be cut on.—Machias Union.

We believe the mild weather has not yet greatly affected operations on the upper Penobscot and Ardostook. They are farther removed from the sea board than St. Croix, Machias and Union rivers, are not so soon affected by rains and thaws.

MR. BENJ. RICHARDSON, of Mt. Desert died very suddenly the 16th, He came into the house as well as usual, sat down, placing his feet upon the hearth of the stove, and stooping forward for some, his feet slipped off, and he fell forward and instantly expired. His age was about 76. He was a very worthy man, and leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his death.—[Ellsworth Journal

13th Maine Regiment.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 20.

Thinking many of your readers might be interested in the Maine 13th, I thought I would drop you a line. Six companies of the regiment are doing duty in Savannah: Co. B is at Darien, Co. I at Brunswick, and Co. F at Hawkinsville, Ga. The one year men with their officers were mustered out on the 17th ult; the two and three year's men were transferred to the old veteran companies Companies E and G are to be mustered out in a few days, and the other three new companies as fast as their term expire They will transfer their two and three year's men to the four old veteran companies, who are to remain in service probably until the expiration of their term, in January, 1867. We have received mustering out orders twice, but through the influence of our officers they have been countermanded, and we have given up all hopes of getting home before another year. The old men are getting reckless, and if they do not see a good prospect of being honorably discharged by April, there will be a good many that will desert, for they consider that they have not had justice done them, and I think they are right, and let any sober man be in the regiment a week and he will agree with me — [Press

Evening Brings Us Home.

Upon the hills the wind is sharp and cold,
The sweet young grasses wither on the wold,
And we, O Lord, have wandered from thy fold;
But evening brings us home.

Among the mists we stumbled, and the rocks,
Where the brown lichen whitens, and the fox
Watches the straggler from the scattered flocks;
But evening brings us home.

The sharp thorns prick us, and our tender feet
Are cut and bleeding, and the lambs repeat
Their pitiful complaints—O, rest is sweet
When evening brings us home.

We have been wounded by the hunter's darts,
Our eyes are very heavy, and our hearts
Search for thy coming—when the light departs
At evening bring us home.

The darkness gathers. Through the gloom no star
Rises to guide us. We have wandered far;
Without thy lamp we know not where we are—
At evening bring us home.

The clouds are round us, and the snow-drifts thicken
O Thou, dear Shepherd, leave us not to sicken
In the waste night—our tardy footsteps quicken.
At evening bring us home.

A REMINISCENCE OF THE KEARSARGE AND ALABAMA FIGHT.—A writer in the Cornhill Magazine, who has had opportunities of conversation with some of Semmes' old crew, gives the following interesting reminiscence of the fight between the Alabama and the Kearsarge, from which it appears that the rebels were left to drown when the pirate sank:—

"I thought you had been in the Confederate navy?" "I was," said Aleck; "I was with Semmes everywhere he went. I was in the naval brigade and blockade-running, and on the Alabama all the while he commanded her." "But not when she sank, I suppose," I rejoined. "Well, I was, and was picked up with him by the Deerhound." "It was a pretty sharp fight, wasn't it?" I suggestingly asked. "It was that," replied Aleck, but he didn't care about enlarging. "I suppose it was the 11-inch shells that did her business?" "Oh, no," said he, coming to a kind of confessional, "we never had any chance; we had no gunners to compare with the Kearsarge's. Our gunners fired by routine, and when they had the gun loaded, fired it off blind. They never changed the elevation of their guns all the fight, and the Kearsarge was working up to us all the while, taking advantage of every time she was hid by smoke to work a little nearer, and then her gunners took aim for every shot." "Then it isn't true that the Alabama tried to board the Kearsarge?" "No, sir, she did her best to get away from the time the fight commenced. We knew well that if we got in range of her Dahlgren howitzers she would sink us in ten minutes."

"But," I asked, "don't you believe that Semmes supposed he could whip the Kearsarge when he went out to fight her?" "No; he was bullied into it, and took good care to leave all his valuables on shore, and had a life preserver on during the fight. I saw him put it on, and I thought if it was wise in him it wouldn't be foolish in me, and I put on one too. When Semmes saw that the ship was going down, he told us all to swim who could, and was one of the first to jump into the water, and we all made for the Deerhound. I was a long way ahead of Semmes, and when I came up to the Deerhound's boat, they asked me if I was Semmes before they would take me in. I said I was not, and then they asked me what I was in the Alabama. Said I, 'No matter what I was on the Alabama, I shall be a dead man soon if you don't take me in.' They asked me again if I was an officer or a seaman, and wouldn't take me in until I told them that I was an officer." "But," said I, "did they actually refuse to pick up common seamen and leave them to drown?" "They did that," replied he wrathfully, and probably not very correctly; "and as soon as they had Semmes on board they made tracks as fast as they know how, and left every body else to drown or be picked up by the Kearsarge."

A SHARP CLERGYMAN.—Emigration to the State of Michigan was so great during the years 1835 and 1836, that every house was filled every night with travelers wanting lodging. Every traveler there at that time will remember the difficulty of obtaining a bed, even if he had two or three strange bedfellows. The Rev. Hosea Brown, an eccentric Methodist minister, stopped one night at one of the hotels at Ann Arbor, and inquired if he could have a room and a bed to himself. The bar-keeper told him he could unless they became so full as to render it necessary to put another in with him. At an early hour the reverend gentleman went to his room, locked the door, retired to his bed, and soon sank into a comfortable sleep. Along towards midnight he was roused from his slumbers by a loud knocking at the door.

"Hallo, you there," he exclaimed, "what do you want now?"—particular stress on the last word.

"You must take another lodger, sir in with you," said the voice of the landlord.

"What another yet?"

"Why, yes; there's only one here, is there?"

"One. Why here's Mr. Brown, and a Methodist minister, and myself, already, and I should think that was enough for one bed, even in Michigan."

The landlord seemed to think so too, and left the "trio" to their repose.

JOSH BILLINGS ON LAFFING.—Laffing is strictly an amewsment, altho sum fokes make a bizzness ov it.

It haz bin considered an index ov character, and there iz sum so close at reasoning that they say they kan tell what a man had for dinner by seein him laff.

I never saw tew laff alike.

Wile there ar sum who don't make enny noize, there ar sum who don't make enny thing but noize—and sum, agin, who hav musik in their laff, and others who laff jest as az rat duz who haz kaut a steel trap with hiz tale.

There iz no mistaik in the assershun that it iz a cumfert to hear sum laffs that kum rompin out ov a man's mowth—like a distrik skule ov yung girls just let out tew pla.

Men who never laff may hav good harts, but they are depe-seted—like sum springs, they hev their in-let and out-let from belo, and show no sparklin bubbil on the brim.

I don't like a giggler; hiz kind of laff iz like a dandy-lion, a broad yeller, and not a bit ov good smell abowt it.

It iz trew that enny kind ov a laff, ef it iz honest, iz beter than none; but give me the laff that looks owt ov a man's eyes, fust, tew see of the coast iz clere, then steles doun intew the dimpel ov hiz cheek and rides in an eddy there awhile, then walzis a spell at the korner ov hiz mouth like a thing ov life, then bursts its bonds ov buty, and fils the air for a moment with a shour of silvery tunged sparks, then steles back with a smile tew its lare in the hart tew watch agin for its pra—that iz the kind of laff that I luv and ain't afrade ov.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. MUTTY'S

Friction Feed Roller,

FOR CIRCULAR SAWS.

PATENTED JANUARY 23d, 1866.

THIS INVENTION is applicable to all Circular Saws provided with stationary tables and used for re-sawing lumber.

It reduces the labor of sawing one half, and fifty per cent. more lumber can be sawed with, than without its use. It is applied without change of existing machinery; is not liable to get out of repair, and not expensive to apply.

It has been in practical use on the Penobscot river for one year, where the above facts have been fully and satisfactorily demonstrated, as is shown by the certificates of master mill-men, machinists, owners and operators of mills appended hereto.

The undersigned have for the past season witnessed the practical use of MUTTY'S FEED ROLLER in re-sawing lumber, and we cheerfully recommend it as a practical, economical, and labor saving invention, destined to come into general use in all cases where lumber is re-sawed upon stationary tables. We are fully satisfied from our own observation that the saving effected, and extra amount cut, by its use, is fully as large as the estimate above given.

THOS. N. EGERY, Iron Founder and Machinist, and Manufacturer of lumber sawing machinery.
C. G. STERNS, Manf'r and dealer in lumber.
DANL. SARGENT, 2d.
PALMER & JOHNSON.
G. W. GORHAM, Master Machinist.
J. W. TREADWELL, Machinist.
JAMES TRACY, Practical Millman.

☞For terms and particulars address MUTTY & SMITH, Brewer Village, Me., owners of the Patent. ☞State and County rights for sale.

Important to Manufacturers.

FOR SALE—The best Water Privilege in Northern Pennsylvania, with about thirty feet fall of water, supported by a dam of solid masonry, laid in water cement. Supply of water unfailing, capable of running eight or ten wheels through the entire season. There are now seven wheels running on the property.

Located near the Borough of Honesdale, on the line of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, from which stock can be delivered directly into some of the shops.

Communicates with New York by Delaware and Hudson Canal, and with Philadelphia, Harrisburgh, Pittsburgh, &c., by rail. The cheapness of coal, and convenience of market communications, makes this a very desirable manufacturing property.

On the premises are four large factories and a first class saw mill.

About 160 acres of Farming Lands, with first class farm buildings, and over 100 acres of timber land can be purchased with the above property, if desired.

For further information apply to HENRY M. SEELY, Honesdale, Pa.

NICHOLS HOUSE.

The undersigned having leased, for a long term, and thoroughly renovated and refitted the NICHOLS HOUSE (late "Dwinel House" in Bangor, has this day re-opened the same to the public accommodation.

This Hotel is centrally located, and in close proximity with the Boats and Cars.

The Proprietor has had a long experience in the "Parker House," of East Corinth, and the "Shaw House," of Newport, and flatters himself that to all patrons he will furnish an agreeable and comfortable home. Every effort and expense will be used to make this House as popular and attractive, as any in this section of the State. Having lately purchased the large and enterprising

Livery Establishment

Lately owned by CALEB BILLINGS, Esq., the same will be carried on in all its departments in connection with said Hotel. The undersigned will be ready to furnish teams of all descriptions, and will extend all accommodations to those who may favor him with their calls.

☞Coaches in readiness for any business at all hours.

☞Orders may be left at the House, or at the Stable office, where a reliable man will hereafter be found to attend upon the wants of customers.

Lease and Fixtures for Sale

—OF THE—

AUGUSTA HOUSE.

The undersigned being compelled (on account of ill health) to relinquish Hotel business, offers for sale the lease and a portion of the furniture of said House.

This Hotel ranks among the first in the country, and commands a large proportion of the travel. It has one hundred twenty-five rooms, perfectly ventilated and substantially furnished. Attached to the house are Bathing Rooms, Shaving and Billiard Saloons, &c.

In connection with the house is a large and convenient Stable, and a fine livery stock.

To any one desirous of entering the hotel business, will find this a rare opportunity with comparatively a small capital.

DR. LAROOKAH'S

Sarsaparilla Compound,

For the Speedy and Permanent Cure of Liver Complaints, Scrofula or King's Evil, Eruptions, and all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches and Boils; Rheumatic and Neuralgic Pains in the Bones, Side and Head; for the various Weaknesses to which Females are liable; Dyspepsia, Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy, and all diseases resulting from or in an impure state of the Blood.

IT is invaluable to Nervous Sufferers, and a positive cure for Palsy arising from the abuse of Mercury or Lead.

It is a Tonic as well as an Alterative, and a sure protection from attacks that originate in change of climate, season or life.

LIVER COMPLAINTS and their combined symptoms, such as Lumbago, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Bilious Eruptions, &c. When caused by Scrofula taint, this compound is a most effectual remedy.

DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, is often caused by Scrofula, which deranges the stomach, and renders it unhealthy. Indigestion is not always caused by Scrofula, when it is, this Sarsaparilla Compound is a ready cure.

NEURALGIA, HEADACHE and various disorders of the nervous system frequently arise from a low state of the constitutional health, and are much relieved and often cured by this powerful remedy.

ERYSIPELAS, Boils, Tumors, or Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Sores, &c. Moderate doses three times a day will usually effect the cure of the above complaints, but often requires considerable time.

Price one dollar per bottle. Six bottles for five dollars.

Price 50 Cents and $1.00 per Bottle.

DR. KNIGHTS'

Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in the sere and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.
